SING 'N GAMES

Helping Children Find Their Voice Through Play

We know that children are designed to learn through play, and that many young children still benefit from a play-based approach to musical education past their toddler years.

We also know how important it is to foster their love of music in these years between toddler music classes and formal lessons.

Sing 'N Games is the perfect bridge between these two experiences for the songbird in your life!

In this weekly group lesson students will explore the world of song through games, movement, listening, music theory, and, of course, singing!

Through this play-based curriculum students will build foundational musical skills like audiation, rhythm, pitch, and theory, as well as begin to find their own voices.

What do I need to know?

- Sing 'N Games is a weekly, 30 minute class which takes place right in our Monroeville studio's group classroom
- This class is designed for children ages 4-8 years old
- Classes will consist of groups of 3-10 students, ensuring both a community experience, and ample engagement with the instructor
- Students can expect to gain understanding of music theory, vocal skills, and audiation skills through a play-based curriculum
- Continuous enrollment is available at $70 billed monthly, or individual classes may be scheduled at $20/class
